

Assignment for Friday, March 24

Before class, do the following:

1. Finish revising your papers in response to your reviewers' comments. You should append a written response memo addressing each reviewer suggestion to the end of your final paper, and submit this single document (final paper + response memo) via eCampus. The final version is due before class, but you have until noon in case technical issues arise.¹
2. Continue to study for Exam 2 on Wednesday, March 29. I've posted a study guide, but it is incomplete. I'll be adding items this week.

¹Four students submitted their assignment late without an excuse and therefore did not receive reviews. I realized this too late for a good solution. Rather than write a response memo, I would like for these students to append a memo summarizing the improvements made to the final version of the paper. Students who submitted the assignment late with my permission should let me know and I will find two reviewers.
